

ALGONQUIAN STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Preamble

The Algonquian Studies Association (referred forthwith as the “Association”; abbreviated as “ASA”) was established in 2024 as a forum for Indigenous and Non-Indigenous scholars and community members to share research relating to Algonquian peoples, and support the sustainability and revitalization of Algonquian languages together with Algonquian communities and individuals. The Association’s fields of interest include, but are not limited to, anthropology, archaeology, art, biography, education, ethnography, ethnobotany, folklore, geography, history, language education, linguistics, literature, music, Indigenous studies, political science, psychology, religion, and sociology. Throughout its activities, the Association will adhere to and apply the guidelines laid out in its Statement of Principles & Practices.

Goals

1. The Association will establish and coordinate conferences, workshops, and other events relating to the Association’s focus (currently the annual Algonquian Conference).
2. The Association will publish research and other works concerning the Association’s focus (currently Papers of the Algonquian Conference [PAC]).
3. The Association will facilitate connections and communication within the Association and the broader community with an interest in the Association’s activities.
4. The Association may seek funds to support the Association’s activities from appropriate organizations, granting agencies, and individuals.

Bylaws

1. Governance

- a. The Association serves its Membership, whose will is represented through the Annual General Meeting, Extraordinary General Meetings, and through Elections or Polls which may take place in conjunction with the Meetings or at other times, and which are arranged according to principles laid out in paragraph N.x and possible separate Policies.
- b. The day-to-day activities of the Association are directed by an Executive Board.
- c. The Association will also have an Indigenous Advisory Council to provide guidance to the Board and the Association on how the Association may best serve Algonquian language communities. The members of the Indigenous Advisory Council will be selected by the Indigenous Caucus of the Membership of the Association.
- d. The Annual or Extraordinary General Meeting or the Board of the Association may recognize or establish other Caucuses for representing the interests and co-ordinating the activities of one or more groups within its Membership.
- e. The Annual or Extraordinary General Meeting or the Executive Board or the Indigenous Advisory Council of the Association may establish Committees to co-ordinate or organize specific activities of the Association, such as an Organizing Committee for arranging the annual conference or an Editorial Committee for publishing the proceedings of the conference.
- f. Beyond what is specified in these Bylaws, the Annual or Extraordinary General Meeting or the Board of the Association may create Terms of Reference or Policies to govern the specific details of any of its activities, such as the functioning of its Committees; these may also be created through Polls of the general Membership. If a Term of Reference or Policy has been created by the Annual or Extraordinary General Meeting or by a Poll of the general Membership, changes to such Terms of Reference or Policy are to be approved in an Annual or Extraordinary General Meeting or by the general Membership, unless they delegate such modifications to the Board.

2. Association Membership

a. Becoming a member

- i. Membership in the Association is open to any individual who professes an interest in Algonquian languages and communities. The Association may decide to have different membership types.

- b. Sixty (60) days in advance of the end of the term of an Officer or Member-at-Large of the Board, the Nominating Committee will solicit from the Membership nominations or self-nominations to serve as the Officer or Member-at-Large; the Nominating Committee may reach out to individual Members who agree to be nominated. Any Member of the Association who is qualified to vote is qualified to serve as an Officer or Member-at-Large.

For all other proposals and questions, they will be deemed to have passed, if they receive the majority of the votes cast (at least one vote beyond half of the votes cast).
- f. The consequences of a Poll will come into effect immediately upon the announcement of the results, unless otherwise specified.
